“I write stories featuring grown women dealing with grown-people problems.”

GENRES

Mystery, Women’s Fiction, Contemporary, Creative Nonfiction

ABOUT ME

I am a child of the 1970s living in Texas with my husband, our tuxedo cat Clyde, and his little sister Buster. I wrote BAD PENNY to show that a bad reputation can lead to a good woman. I have a dark sense of humor, an open mind, and a love for reading. I am left handed and very ticklish.

I am a member of Sisters in Crime, Crime Writers of Color, and DFW Writers’ Workshop.

BAD PENNY BY DELLA BROWN

Summary

Penny Ambrose is a middle-aged black parolee facing eviction. She is determined to walk the straight and narrow but needs money to pay her court-ordered restitution and to keep a roof over her head. When her rich, white ex-fiancé is murdered, she inherits everything. Penny must find whodunit before she’s back in jail—or dead.
